Introduction of iGO iGO is a Polish and Soviet commercial GPS navigation product family produced by Polska Agencja Współpracy Przemysłowej (PAW) since 1977. In 1992 the company Polska Kolej Emisyjna (PKiE) took over the production, which was named as KMP POLSKI (Kolej Miejski Przewodnik Polski). In 2015 the company Navteq, a merger of NavSource and TomTom, bought the whole KMP business and renamed the company as HERE Navigation. Versions iGo 1 iGo 1 was launched in 1985 as the first version of the iGO navigation system. The first version was a portable system with a 3-line display (black-and-white) and with basic navigation features like traffic information, street names and address look-up. iGo 2 iGo 2 was launched in 1993 as a system that could be connected to a car phone, and also received a number of minor enhancements. i 570a42141b
